Artist and illustrator Lindsay Hopkins has been drawing and creating since childhood. She has a love for color and hopes to encourage and inspire others through her creativity. Lindsay began her creative career in 2009 with custom painted canvases and nursery art. As she grew artistically Lindsay discovered new mediums and began illustrating. Her online shop, Pen & Paint, opened in 2012. Lindsay works out of her bright home studio in South Georgia creating inspirational art prints and stationery, along with other items featuring her artwork.[pen-and-paint.com]

This is the third in a series of Scripture and designs by Pen + Paint. I have the previous books in the premium version and was happy to see a new book of designs in the same format. The concept behind the designs is the same. The Scripture is what is front and center with the coloring design elements around it. Some of the designs pertain to the verse while others are more of decorative value. It's always a real pleasure to pull out my Christian coloring books. I use them as part of my prayer and praise time. I choose the verse that speaks to me that day, color it, meditate on it, research more about it and use it to guide my prayer that day. Unlike the two previous books, this coloring book does not give attribution to images from Shutterstock. I'm not sure if that means that the designs are original as it does not list Pen + Paint as the illustrator either. The designs have a lovely hand-drawn look to them which is my favorite style of design. This coloring book contains 30 larger designs and 12 smaller ones. All of the pages are perforated at the binding area. The small ones are printed two to a page and you have to cut them on the provided cutting line to separate them from each other. The larger design will fit an 8 x 10 inch frame and the smaller design will fit a 5 x 7 inch frame. The 12 smaller designs are not unique and new designs but rather smaller versions of 12 of the larger designs. The designs are all Scripture-based with verse citations and are from the following translations: Holy Bible, New International Version (NIV), New King James Version, and the ESV Bible (The Holy Bible, English Standard Version.) This is what I experienced while coloring in this book and testing my coloring medium on the paper: 30 Large Format and 12 Small Format Scripture Based Designs in for a total of 42 coloring projects. Designs are printed on one side of the page. Paper is perforated, antique white, slightly rough and medium weight. Designs do not cross over the perforations. Glue Binding. Alcohol-based markers bleed through the paper. Water-based markers left shadows of color on the back of the page. Gel pens and India ink pens left indistinct shadows on the back of the page. Coloring pencils work well with this paper. I tested both oil and wax based pencils with good results. I was able to get good, deep pigment. I could layer easily (both same and different colors.) Blending was also easy using a pencil style blending stick. I use a blotter page of card stock or heavyweight paper (two sheets) to keep seeping ink from marring the pages below. I recommend using a blotter or that you remove pages before coloring.

This is a lovely book and am looking forward to coloring in it and sharing some pages with others.

All of the Beauty in the Bible coloring books are great. A Bible verse surrounded by beautiful pictures to color. I think it is a great way to remember Scripture verses.

There were too many non-scripture pages with boring designs. And the scripture pages weren't up to my expectations. I wanted better fonts to go with the scripture. I also wanted better graphics.

I really like the level of difficulty of this book. It's not too easy or too intricate. The verses are well chosen.

I'm new at coloring so I'm learning to color and learning scriptures at the same time

As advertised

So so cute!! Creative and inspiring...love the bible!
