Eloise Wilkin (1904Ã¢â ¬â œ1987) illustrated dozens of classic Golden Books in her long career. Famous for her instantly recognizable style, she provided the art for such books as Baby Dear, We Help Mommy, and the original Little Golden Book versions of Prayers for Children and My Little Golden Book About God.From the Board edition.

Very sweet but best for religious families as these stories mention God and church etc. If ypu are not religious you may not enjoy these.Lovely illustrations of children and animals. Gently worded so even babies can understand but I think older children would enjoy these stories as well.

I got my book today and as soon as I took it out the carton,my grand daughter was hooked.She loved the pictures and laughed and smiled at the pages.This is from a year old child. She loves books and this was an excellent choice.The pictures are in full color and brings me back to my childhood.The stories and poems in this collection are perfect for little ones.Because?? It has pictures and stories that a little one can relate to.Because the book stories are written about them! With the most precious pictures to delight little eyes.Little girls will cuddle a dolly more,help mommy better,etc....It is just a sweet sweet collection with amazing pictures.I would suggest anyone with little ones-to get this book.Especially if you know a family with baby number 2 on the way.The story in this,is precious! It did this ole heart good to read this and smile at the pictures.Plus.....to see my year old grand baby clap her wee little hands and laugh at the pictures and say Oh!!!!!! She loves this book.I believe it will become her most favorite.Do yourself a favor and snatch this one up before it goes out of print.You won't regret it. There are stories and poems in this.Beautiful!!!!!!

This book is simply wonderful. My 3 year old son LOVES it and I love that he loves it! I really like the book too. It has a lot of sweet pictures which enthrall young children. I came across this book in some preschool curriculum, so it is a great school tool to use with your young children. One of his favorite stories is, "guess who lives here" where one page gives you clues like "she smiles a lot and cooks good food etc" then the next page shows and tells you "its Terry's Mother". Some of the other guess who characters are the father, sister, dog, cat, milkman, postman, squirell outside, rain, sunshine, moonlight, mouse in the cellar. The section about Nature has some great quality pictures and bugs and flower seeds. There is a book about God. There are also some very nice and kid engaging poems that are sweet and tender! Good size for a toddler, not too big (dimensional wise) and heavy like some collection books are. These stories are also great to read at bedtime!!!

One reviewer said this collection is best for religious families as some stories mention god. I disagree. These books are best for everybody. I read the stories and just omit the god word. They are about the wonders in nature, and the wonder that each child is. And thats only 2 stories out of many. My daughter still asks me to read these. Shes 6. Id say 2 to 4 years would enjoy the most. The author really understands young children and speak to their needs and interests.

This is a lovely collection of stories. Eloise Wilkin's illustrations are wonderful in their detail, and her drawings of babies and children are striking. My children especially enjoy the "Baby" stories: Baby

Dear, Baby Listens and Baby Looks, as well as We Help Mommy.

A very sweet collection of books I remember reading in the 70s. My pet peeve is that the contents are never listed in these anthologies, so here they are:Busy Timmy, Guess Who Lives Here, My LGB About God, Wonders of Nature, selections from A Child's Garden of Verses, We Help Mommy, Baby Listens, Baby Dear, Baby Looks, "Little Boy Blue," "At Sunset"

I bought this sight-unseen and found that few of the stories were ones that we'd read to our children. I gave it to my toddler grandson anyway, and it became his favorite book to read while I was visiting, and as I understand for weeks afterward. The text is sort of bland, mostly comments about the pictures and on a toddler's level. Our grandson liked finding pictures of things in his own life, like a tree swing and a bumblebee, and a new baby in the house. This one book contains enough material to keep you reading for many story-times.

My 6 year old and 3 year old both love these sweet stories. They also love the shiny gold on the end of the pages.
