ICubed: The Winning Rugby Coaching System - Second Half

Synopsis

What do we do next? No matter what your level of rugby coaching, the iCubed system will equip you to answer that vital question correctly. This book will explain the big picture of how the system fits together. It will fit your circumstances perfectly. It will give you a universal template which identifies and points the way to solving all your rugby problems. It will also quickly maximise all the lessons that are taught by the other coach up-skilling method. So when the time comes, you will have the resources to decide with confidence what you will do next. The rugby coach enjoys a special privilege and responsibility: to join together the efforts of everyone in the team in such a way that the total is greater than the sum of the parts. It is one of the most rewarding experiences in sport, and is one that everyone who is swept up in it will treasure for the rest of their lives. It is the reason they play, or assist, or support your team in the hope that someone will perform the magic. This book will tell you exactly how to make the magic happen. All Black and coaching great Bryan Williams contributed the Foreword in which he wrote, "through the iCubed system I learned something really important that I didn't know before, and others have got to know about it. All rugby coaches, players, administrators, support staff personnel, and fans of the rugby will receive new and rich insights that will transform their understanding". Even those encountering the game of rugby for the first time will understand the iCubed system with no difficulty. By the time you've finished you'll know even better than many coaches what they should do next! Second Half is the second of three volumes in the iCubed: The Winning Rugby Coaching System series. The others are First Half, which reveals all the details of the system; and Extra Time, which shows how to apply the system. Also available is the super volume, Full Match, incorporating all the material in the series.
