Mikal Keefer is a grandfather who's authored more than 25 books for kids of all ages. His chief aim in life is snuggling his grandkids close so they can enjoy a good story together. Paula Becker is a freelance illustrator living in Montreal, Quebec & South Texas. For over twenty years she has created fun, whimsical illustrations for a variety of projects, such as books, magazines, posters, greeting cards, educational curriculum, and more.

The young children I work with all have different emotions in the course of any given hour. Being able to help a child with their social/emotional needs while experiencing acceptance and encouragement is needed both in a classroom and the home situation. I like the pictures that can engage different levels of thinking. Even an untrained volunteer can extend the learning in this book beyond the printed words. Any resource where I can get multiple uses with different ages is a benefit to me. In this age where so many children feel like they do not have support of friends or family, it is imperative that they know God is for them.

My granddaughter looked like all three Tina the Termites on the cover in the span of 90 seconds today! Each page of this book leads to meaningful discussions with your preschooler about situations that cause these emotions, and what they can do to control them. Each time we read it together, she found different ideas. We spent a LOT of time on the page showing a thunderstorm when Tina was scared and God was for her. Illustrations are great!

The Li'l Buddies books are fantastic! Mikal Keefer has done a great job of writing a fun story for littles to connect their emotions to how God is for us no matter what! This is a definite library add for your toddlers! Pick one up for a baby shower gift! Help kids grow in their faith!! Paula Becker's illustrations are GREAT !! The whimsy make this story all the more enjoyable!

This wonderful story by Mikal Keefer has an important message that every little person needs to know in this day and age that no matter what life throws their way, the matter where their little hearts may take them, that God is always for them.

God created emotions and loves me no matter how I am feeling. This is a truth that we all need to know. I love the way this simple book can help a child put words to their feelings and know that we all can feel the same way. Great job, Mikal Keefer!

I couldn't help but chuckle. The cover says it all! This book will help toddlers (and perhaps a few adults) identify and put words to their emotions. No whining or tantrums here.

Such an important message that God is for you no matter what. Your mood, attitude, feelings can't change God's love for you. It's fun acting out the faces of the emotions with your toddler as you read this book together!

It was so much fun making all these different faces with my toddler! Mad, glad, sad.... he could relate and understand this book so well! Beautiful book with a great message.
