Customer Reviews

Anna Dewdney was a teacher, mother, and enthusiastic proponent of reading aloud to children. She continually honed her skills as an artist and writer and published her first Llama Llama book in 2005. Her passion for creating extended to home and garden and she lovingly restored an 18th century farmhouse in southern Vermont. She wrote, painted, gardened, and lived there with her partner, Reed, her two daughters, two wirehaired pointing griffons, and one bulldog. Anna passed away in 2016, but her spirit will live on in her books.

We loved the original Llama Llama Red Pajama book, and I was looking for a morning book to read to my little one so I was happy to see Wakey-Wake. It is much shorter than the original book, with far fewer words but it is cute and keeps our little one's attention. The price is very reasonable and it was hard to find specific good morning books. This one talks about getting ready for your day, finding clothes to wear, giving a kiss goodbye, and having a good day. I would recommend, but still love the original best!

These books keep the attention of a 14 month old. The pages are easy for the toddler to turn.

We love the Llama Llama books! The beautiful illustrations and short rhymes are very enjoyable. The boardbook itself feels a little cheap, but we got it for a great price.

Love

these books are the cardboard books the hard cover ones are GREAT and all LLama Books are so fun to read to your children.

Who doesn't love some Llama books! We sure do!

My 11 month old loves these books and actually hands them to me to read. They are a good length for bedtime and not annoying or sappy, they don't make me want to cry either, which is nice! They are thick and sturdy too, so he can chew away and I don't mind. He loves the simple text and pictures. Great price too! I hope this review was helpful!

My 1 1/2 year old son is such a big Llama Llama fan!! These books are so durable and such a fun read for little ones. This series is a great series to give as gifts or to treat your little one with! I can't wait to read it to my little guy soon.
